The statistics on persons seeking employment are produced from a register maintained by the Swedish Public Employment Service. The information is continuously collected from data storage of the Swedish Public Employment Service.

Programmes with activity support include the following measures: Starting up a business, Work experience, Trial opportunity, Practical competence development, Work guarantee for young people, Work and development guarantee, Occupational rehabilitation, Introduction to working life, Activities within counselling guidance and placement service, Projects with employment policy orientation, In-depth assessment and counselling guidance, Development guarantee phase 3, Labour market training and Preparatory training courses.

Quality and comparability

As of March 2008 unemployment statistics shall be reported as indicated below.

The statistics produced by Statistics Sweden differ from those of the Swedish Public Employment Service regarding regional and age distribution.

Region

The Swedish Public Employment Service uses information from the register of job seekers concerning the home municipality and local employment office at the given time. In contrast Statistics Sweden presents the job seekers in the municipality where they are registered according to the Total Population Register at the turn of the year for the statistics of 31 March, and 30 September for the statistics of 31 October. Persons who moved during January-March and In October are thus presented in the area where they were previously registered. Those who moved to Sweden from abroad during the same period are not included.

The statistics from the Swedish Public Employment Service on job seekers broken down by local employment office or home municipality thus includes persons who can be registered in both the municipality in question and another municipality. In the same way, job seekers in a particular municipality in Statistics Sweden's statistics can be registered at employment offices in other municipalities and have another municipality as their home in the register of the Swedish Public Employment Service.

Age

The Swedish Public Employment Service makes a breakdown of job seekers by their age at the end of the reporting month. In Statistics Sweden's tables, the age of job seekers at the end of the year applies.

Open unemployment refers to those registered in the Swedish Public Employment Service categories 11 Unemployed 96-98 Unemployed, (temporary).

LABOUR MARKET

Source: Register-based labour market statistics, Statistics Swede www.scb.se/AM0207

Employment is determined from the statements of earnings and taxation annually supplied by employers to the tax authorities as well as from information on company income from the taxation register.

Commuting. Commuters are persons who have their place of work in another municipality than where they live. Commuting between municipalities in the same county and commuting to/from another county are reported here.

Employment – day population includes persons working in the municipality and who live in or outside the municipality.

Gainfully employed. A person is classified as gainfully employed if they have received income from work over a period of on average at least one hour per week in the month of November.

Gainfully employed – night population includes all gainfully employed persons who live in the municipality irrespective of which municipality in which they work.

Industry. As of 2008, Labour Market Statistics use the Swedish Standard for Industrial Classification (SIC) 2007, which is coordinated by the EU industrial standard NACE vers. 2. The revision work has meant a number of changes.

Information about SIC 2007 is available on Statistics Sweden's website www.scb.se/sni2007

Sectors. The category Business sector includes Limited/Incorporated companies (not state-owned), Other companies (not state-owned), State-owned companies and organisations, Municipal-owned companies and organisations, Other organisations. The Public sector includes Central government administration, Public service companies, Primary government administrative bodies, County councils, and Other governmental institutions.

The Self-employed are reported broken down into those with their own incorporated company and other self-employed. The latter group includes businessmen with sole proprietorships, partnerships, limited partnerships, etc.

Expenditures in SEK per inhabitant

Information is based on financial statement statistics that Statistics Sweden annually collects from the municipalities.

Administration expenditures for the municipality and related activities and office expenses are allocated to each activity. However, administration expenditures related to political leadership and governance of the municipality are reported under Political activities. Expenditures are calculated as gross expenditures minus internal revenues and sales of activities to other municipalities and county councils. Thus, the expenditure concept corresponds to the municipality's expenses for its own consumption. See also the book "Vad kostar verksamheten i Din kommun?"

Municipal taxes

The tax rate (tax levy) refers to the percentage of earned income subject to taxation that the taxpayer is obligated to pay as municipal income tax. Following the separation of the Swedish church from the Swedish state, the total municipal tax rate currently comprises only the tax rates for the municipality and the county council. The taxation base consists of taxable earned income going to municipal income tax. The tax base is reported in terms of SEK per inhabitant, also called tax-paying capacity, and in terms of the share of the national average.

POPULATION

Source: Population Statistics, Statistics Sweden www.scb.se/BE0101

The Population Register (TPR) is a copy of the tax authorities' register of individuals, which is renewed periodically with reports on changes in births, deaths, migration, marriages, divorces and changes in citizenship.

Foreign born. This includes persons born outside of Sweden regardless of whether the parents were born in Sweden or outside Sweden.

Population density per sq. km and land area. More detailed calculations of area have been carried out from 1 January 2012. For this reason, it is not advisable to compare data from before 2012 with data relating to after 2012. Furthermore, for the years following 2012, data for municipalities will not match the total for counties, because of enclaves, which have not been possible to divide into municipalities. Land area includes watercourses of a width of 6 metres or less, and meres and smaller pools of water up to maximum of several 10km<sup>2</sup> in size.

Total fertility rate refers to the average number of children per woman and man respectively if the fertility of the specific year for each age category is extrapolated into the future.

REGIONAL DIVISIONS

Heby was transferred to Uppsala county from Västmanland county on 1 January 2007.

SOCIAL WELFARE

Preschool activities and care of school-age children

Source: National Agency for Education www.skolverket.se

Child care is now referred to as preschool activities and care of school-age children and comprises preschool, pedagogical child care and leisure time centres. A preschool class is not a part of the preschool activities and care of school-age children but rather a separate form of schooling and is thus not reported here.

As of July 2009, the concept of a family daycare centre was replaced by pedagogical child care in the Education Act 1985:1100 and related legislation. Statistics about pedagogical child care exists as of the autumn of 2009, statistics on family day care centres exists for years between 1994 and 2008. There are no comparable statistics for pedagogical child care because those statistics were first collected in October of 2009.

Pedagogical child care is a collective concept where family day care centres form one of many variant activities within pedagogical day care. Other variants can include such things as multiple family solutions.

The number of children in preschool and leisure time centres and the number of children in pedagogical child care is reported by age groups 1–5 years and 6–12 years.
